About the artistes:

Lalgudi Srimathy Brahmanandam hails from a family of distinguished musicians. One of her forefathers was a disciple of the great composer-saint Tyagaraja. She is a member of the fourth generation of this lineage. Srimathy received her early training in violin from her father who was a versatile musician. Her principal teacher was her brother, the violin virtuoso Lalgudi Sri. Jayaraman. For over a decade she teamed with her illustrious brother for concerts all over India which have since become a legendary. Today Srimathy is a solo artiste in her own right.

Srimathy's style is steeped in pure classical music. Within that framework she displays virtuosity and wide imagination in her playing. She has given concerts all over India and also in Singapore and Malaysia. Last summer she was in residence at the S.V.Temple at Pittsburgh giving lessons and performing.

Sri. Ramnad Raghavan is familiar to many of us. He accompanied MLV at the inaugural concert of "SRUTI". Earlier this year he accompanied Vairamangalam Lakshminarayanan. He lives in Cleveland, Ohio and teaches at the Cleveland State College.
